Mayroon pa rin pagod namin ng araw ko dito nasa Wesleyan University-Philippines. It is one of the university’s biggest achievements. For that reason, alumni enthrall their children to Wesleyan University-Philippines.”

OAA launches new programs and projects

TOPNOTCHER: STORY OF SUCCESS

Geastyne Lauren G. Nolido during the graduation pictorial. He graduated as Cum Laude of Batch 2014. He is also a consistent Academic Excellence Awardee.

Although peers are right most of the time, he denies the claim of being a bookworm.

PREPARATION FOR THE BOARD EXAM

Geastyne admitted that the review was not easy and discipline was really a must. He had to familiarize himself with all the theories and that he needed to be remembered, sleepless nights and books had been his new friends. He read almost every material including the NCLEX review books. He also admitted that he was not following a review pattern instead, he always sets standards with what he ought to Polish.

“Whenver I felt that my mind didn’t like to read, I relaxed. I browsed in the internet, played games on my tablet, watched movies or slept. I need to keep my body and mind relaxed so I could fully absorbed the contents of the review materials,” he shared.

To Focus, he decided to deactivate his Facebook and other social networking sites accounts like Twitter. Instead, he installed apps because these took lots of his time and hindered him from achieving success. He said that a lot will be compromised and he would not like the idea.

THE DAY BEFORE THE EXAM

Geastyne narrated that he tried to read more but took enough rest. He understood that at that point, what mattered most was how hard he studied in college and that God planned to reward his struggles.

“I attended mass and prayed passionately for God’s guidance. I surrendered myself to him.” He then quoted a Bible verse “Ask and it will be given to you; seek and you will find; knock and the door will be opened to you,” Matthew 7:7. He also confessed how he kept saying “I will be a topnotcher!” to attract positive energy. Optimism! That’s what he called it.

THE INSPIRATION

Family—One of the common answers to often asked questions. “Who is your inspiration?”

Geastyne shared bearing with great pride and confidence that his family was his biggest inspiration. He attributed the devotion particularly his mother who is also a nurse. His mother was the greatest influence for his pursuing a nursing career. “I saw what my Mom was doing and what she can do as a nurse. I always been proud of her ability to take care of patients and her sound knowledge to health science.”

INITIAL RESERVATIONS

After few months of waiting for the result, Geastyne logged on to the Professional Regulation Commission (PRC) website and hopefully read his name as the second place among the Top 10. He also learned about his achievement through texts and calls from friends and Mr. Carl Bafista, owner of Carl Bafista Review Center, where he took his review.

Geastyne shared that he did hope to make it on the top ten. “I prayed for help and guidance. When I ranked second, I was so happy and blessed that God truly gave more than what I asked for.” He preceded sending thank you messages of gratitude to his friends, his Wesleyan Family, and his academic and clinical instructors.

He also received a courtesy call from the University President who personally congratulated him for the achievement that he also gave him to his alma mater. “Sabina ating overworked sa gawa oka…at na-appreciate ko din yung reward na ibigay nito sa akin. I just did my best and am really blessed na nagbayan po ako ng maraming biga mga guhit sa kanya.” (Geastyne refused to name the reward that he got from the university.)

WORLD OF WISDOM

Geastyne shared his secret, strategies, and good habits to all the nursing graduates who will take the board exam. “My best advice is, if you feel that you are not ready at all singin’ mo hindi pa enough any knowledge that you know. Just do not take the exam. Hindi namang basta- basto ang NLE. Nakakataka lang rin nila na hindi ko pumarsa.”

“Review with your own style. During your college days you have probably discovered a learning strategy that works for you. I believe I learned better by reviewing at night when all were quiet. Posting facts on the walls was also effective,” he said.

Geastyne shared his review tips as follows:

First, “Trust in the Lord with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding,” Proverbs 3:5.

Second, “Study while others are sleeping: work while others are looking; pre-tain nurse in one of the prominent hospitals in Nueva Ecija. It is to practice his profession and gain more experiences aside from providing health services.”

“In these times of tough competition, do not aim alone in passing the exam, aim for a competent board rating. Aim to be the best. That will be your edge. Anyone can do it, kailangan lang pa talaga ng focus. Use your inspirations, your family; always remember their sacrifices for you…para po sa mga napilitan lang mag-nursing; tandaan mo, nandyan pa na, natapos mo na, bakit di mo pa i-ledo lahat.”

He also confessed that there will come a time during review that you will feel overwhelmed, frustrated or even bored. “Take time to relax but always remember why you started…Para po sa mga napilitan lang mag-nursing, tandaan mo, nandyan pa na, natapos mo na, bakit di mo pa i-ledo lahat.”

AFTER THE ACHIEVEMENT

It took a lot of bumps before Geastyne got to where he is now topnotcher. But he believes that they are all according to God’s plan. He is bound for bigger things, and will confidently and excitedly hold every new thing that will be thrown his way. Geastyne is now a volun-

Malnutrition has always been one of the major health problems in our country. It is evident even in our embraced community in Pangatian, Cabanatuan City. Malnourished children were identified and efforts are initiated through our outreach programs.

In response to this problem, the Office for Alumni Affairs created a feeding program entitled “Piso Mo, Kalusugan Ko!” aimed at helping identified malnourished children achieve a desirable nutritional status through provision of well-balanced meals every day. Collaboration will be undertaken to maximize the results of this program.

Office for Alumni Affairs coordinates and works with the Wesleyan Community Outreach Program (WESCOP) headed by Dr. Apolinar M. Alfonso, and the different academic departments and administrative units of the Wesleyan University-Philippines.

The GOAL of the feeding program is to be able to engage the alumni in a tangible project that will benefit the less fortunate children in the community. Specifically, the Office for Alumni Affairs aims:

1. To help malnourished children attain a desirable health through provision of well-balanced meals, medical assistance and health teachings.
2. To promote participation of the alumni in a community program through volunteer works and/or logistic assistance.
3. To involve the parents especially the mothers of these children in this program, and help them through referrals, find a means of livelihood that will sustain the nutritional needs of the children, and
4. To provide health teachings both to the children and their parents.

Implementation Phase

1. Children will be fed meals every day in a predetermined area like the health center to ensure that food is prepared and served properly and caloric requirements are met.
2. Nursing students will be asked to conduct health teaching sessions for the children and their mothers.
3. Alumni volunteers will be given tasks.
4. Monitoring evaluation and documentation will be done by the Office. A child “graduates” from the program once desired body weight is achieved.
5. Selection of new enrollees to the program will be done depending on the fund generated.

...even the leaders of the university started helping the less fortunate... you can also share your blessings. Small things for us might be big things to others.
The Alumni Homecoming was one of the highlights of the week-long celebration of the 68th founding anniversary of Wesleyan University – Philippines. It was held at the university auditorium on February 15, 2014.

With the theme “WATTA” (Wesleyan Alumni through the Age), the homecoming became an avenue for former friends and acquaintances to meet and reminisce the “good-old-days”. A total of 452 alumni wore the fashion statement of the decade which added to the prestige and excitement of the event. The former Director of Alumni Affairs Wilfredo C. Ramos, gave thanks to all the alumni who attended the event though the preparation was done only for two months.

“I am grateful to all the people behind the preparation which simply proved to be worthy of exaltation,” he added.

Moreover, Alumni President Proceso T. Domingo shared his happiness in the grandiosity of the celebration. Following his speech immediately was University President Pacifico B. Aniag. He said that he was inspired by all the alumni (both from the academe and outside) for attending the momentous event. He mentioned that the many successes of university are because of its graduates who helped in most of the projects, infrastructures and in other noble causes. He further encouraged the alumni to always keep in touch to preserve the Wesleyan spirit alive.

There were 452 alumni from different colleges who attended the event. “This is surely memorable because I had a chance, once again, to talk with my college friends and classmates. Madami ang tumaba, yung iba parang hindi tumatanda and of course I am so happy that the university is getting more beautiful not just with its facilities but also with the quality of education. Sulit ang pag-uwi ko from the states. May ikwe kwento at babaunin ako pabalik.” said one alumna who was overwhelmed by the celebration.

The very first Grand Nursing Alumni Homecoming was a tremendous success. It was held at the university gymnasium on July 19-20, 2013. It was attended by alumni from various countries particularly in United States of America (USA).

It is note-worthy to mention that the WUPNAA-USA has been conceived by a group of alumni and faculty through the initiative of their former dean, Dr. Norma Corpuz-Rabara, who migrated to the United States together with her family in 1990.

Through the efforts of Dean Rabara the alumni association remains very active up to present and in fact resulted to the birth of different chapters in USA and numerous countries.

The chapters created are: East Coast Chapter (1990), Texas Chapter (2003), California Chapter (2005), Florida Chapter (2008), Midwest Chapter (2008), Canada Chapter (2008), Pacific Northwest Chapter (2010), Philippine Chapter (2010), Middle East Chapter (2010), and WUPNAA Emirates and Middle East (2010) Other chapters expected to organize are United Kingdom, Hawaii, New Zealand, Australia and hopefully more.

On November 11 - 15, 2015, the association will have a grand reunion to be held in Abu Dhabi & Dubai, UAE. Itinerary will include two (2) days in Dubai (Nov. 12 & 13) and two (2) days in Abu Dhabi (Nov. 14 & 15). Awarding Night and Dinner Dance will be held in Abu Dhabi on Nov. 15. Celebrants are Class ’80, Class ’85 and Class ’90 on their 35th, 30th, and 25th Anniversary respectively.
